

Bain To Talk On Effect Of Disarmament

"The Effect of Disarmament on the Labor Force" will be the topic of a lecture tonight by Dr. Trevor Bain, assistant professor of economics and research specialist, Institute of Labor Relations, University of Arizona. He will speak at 8 in Room 110 of the B&PA Building.

The lecture is the first in a series of four, sponsored by the Tucson Peace Center, titled "Disarmament and the American Community."

Bain recently was awarded a faculty grant to conduct a pilot project on disarmament and employment.

Rep. Morris K. Udall will speak May 3, Dr. James McDonald on April 26 and Dr. Neal Houghton on May 10.

The lectures are open to the public free of charge.
